Cardinal Gibbons Says Such Action Would Cause Catholic Choirs to Deteriorate.

WOULD NOT IMPROVE MUSIC.

Declares There Is No Reason for Eliminating Female Voice From Participation in Church Singing.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Baltimore, June 19 .- Cardinal Gibbons is trongly in favor of retaining female voices in the choirs of the Catholic churches in the United States. While it is understood that the Cardinal favors the retention of female voices, still it cannot be said that for this reason he is criticising the Pope's action in favoring their ex-clusion. The Cardinal merely has exthe Popo's decree shall be that female voices shall not be heard in the choir any longer, then it will be incumbent upon Cardinal Gibbons to see to it that such a decree is carried out. Cardinal Gibbons gave the first Intimaion of his position on this subject at a commencement at the Academy of Visitation held in this city last week, and, in referring to the matter, stated that he hoped never to see the time when female voices would be excluded from the choirs of the church. The Cardinal, in explaining his wishes on the subject, said to The

They are too valuable an adjunct to the musical part of our service, and there is no reason for their ex-There are certain parts of our chants and musical numbers, which rechants and musical numbers, which require just such voices as those possessed by women, and if they are taken away then I fear that the effect and impiration of the music and singing will be materially diminished. Our choirs are made up of excellent voices, but if the females are to be taken away there will be a failure in the real purpose of the minging."

The Cardinal went on to explain some of the points in the Catholic service which required good music, and said be: "The women are the ones who contribute the sweetness and expression to it."

CHOIRS WOULD DETERIORATE. Centinuing, Cardinal Gibbons said:

"There can be no reason for the exclusion from our choirs, and I feel it my duty to say that I do not desire to see such a move made and furthermore, I am opposed to the plan.

"While I am a firm believer in the best music that can be obtained for our church choirs. I cannot see where they would be improved upon or the religious ideas of the church better carried out by the exclusion of Iemale voices. The church deserves the best music and it should have it.

The Carolinal was asked if he thought that such an exclusion would take place and to this he answered: "I hope not." Continuing, Cardinal Gibbons said:

Carriage Overtorned.

A carriage driven by J. Evans of No. 745 Walton avenue was overturned yesterday afternoon near the north approach of the Grand avenue bridge. Mrs. Street 60 years old, was scriously injured.

There has been no contest.

It had been originally intended to send Governor Elanchard, the two United States Senators. Foster and McEmery, and Mr. Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, as delegates at large, but Governor Blanchard has just given notice that he will be unable to attend, as the Legislature will be in session them.

It has not yet been settled who will be elected in his piace.

The degates will be for Parker, and the only question is whether the delegation will be instructed for him or not. The disposition is to instruct, and Mr. Henriques, chairman of the New Oricans Parish, will offer a resolution to that effect. Others argue, however, that the Alabama plan of indorsing Parker, but not instructing for him, is the better. This is really the only question before the convention.
